

The People At Ecunet

Values at Ecunet include friendship, mutual support, honesty in the faith, and timely news. I believe it was an Ecunet message which alerted me to World Trade Center attack. The support and prayers shared during the Oklahoma City bombing and its aftermath impressed me with the kind of folk found here.

Ron Miller, Retired Priest
Episcopal Church, U.S.A.

I met my husband on Ecunet. When I met him he was a Presbyterian pastor then living in Montana, and I was a United Methodist Lay person working for the Annual Conference in Wisconsin.

Kristin Knudson Harris
Director of Communication Services and Resources / Iowa Conference of the UMC
United Methodist Church

At Ecunet I have learned more about my faith, gotten help with my computer, participated in book studies, sermon discussion, theological debates, and numerous other venues.

Timothy D. Bonney, Pastor
American Baptist Churches, USA

I've found the conversations on Ecunet to be personally helpful in examining my relationship to God and society.

Elizabeth W. Bennefeld
Freelance Editor and Writer
Religious Society of Friends

As a churchwide staff member of a Lutheran denomination, and as a member of the Ecunet board of directors, I have a keen interest in how Ecunet can help us all to create a "connected church."
